

Technology

Automatic Needling and Electroporation technology for more effective drug delivery. The needle creates fine perforations on the skin and maximizes drug absorption through momentary electrical stimulation. It can be used on various treatments for the scalp and face.

Micro-Needle

Electroporation

Micro-Needling

Adjustable needling speed and depth effectively delivers the drug into the skin

Any types of solution can be delivered to the target depth with hygienic disposable micro needle

Electroporation

Electroporation uses high voltage pulses to temporarily openholes on skin surface, effectively delivering active ingredients in a short time

Safe and effective treatment is available without irritation or pain
